he home for retreats is a
cozy silent habitat,
that can house
youngsters for a pause of self analysis;
newly wed couples,
whole families,
for a better insight,
in peace, of their alliance to Christ.
The home may host priests, religious individuals that want to refuel in the quiet the energies of the Spirit.
Parochial groups
for program and spirituality days.

Father Francesco Pianzola's retreat home
in Sartirana (Pavia)

Missionary sisters of the Immaculate Queen of Peace.

The house for retreats is in Sartirana, which is a small farm area in the Lomellina.

in the surroundings there are many historical memoirs: the castle is the most impressive of them. In the quiet of the ancient quarter, there is the family house of Father Pianzola, the founder of the missionary sisters. The house was refurbished recently in order to be suitable for retreats. It is open to host singles and small groups for a peaceful stay, in meditation and prayer. A Chapel is in the house, there is a living room; rooms with single beds and services; under-roof rooms.

The house has a kitchen that can be used by the guests.
